The Four Pillars Is Highly Commended

The annual Tiffin Cup is back and I was extremely pleased the restaurant I nominated was Highly Commended.

Indian restaurant The Four Pillars, in Olney, was recognised in the prestigious competition run by Keith Vaz MP.

A Taste Of Success At The Old Bath House

I was delighted to see The Old Bath House Community Centre in Wolverton had been honoured with The Queen's Award for Voluntary Service.

When I went to visit it was also amazing to see the work going on at the MK Community Fridge which encourages people to stop sending food waste to landfill and instead share with the community.

Volunteers Week At Oxfam

It was a great pleasure to meet some of the incredible volunteers at Oxfam in Olney on Volunteers Week.

Shop Manager Joanne Papworth-Smith took time to recognise her dedicated volunteers and asked me to join her to see for myself, the intricate process of how the variety of donations reach the shelves.

The Stanley Court shop has been in Olney for over 15 years. It is light, airy and full of high-quality books and music.

Home Care Preferred Launches In MK

MK is a great place for new charities and businesses so I'm delighted HomeCare Preferred have launched their latest branch here.

They do incredible work and will support our elderly community, giving them the choice to remain in their own homes for as long as possible.

Award Winning Bangers!

Established just four years ago by Bill, Paul and Graham, the Market Place shop entered homemade sausages, burgers and stuffed chicken and to their absolute delight the Chicken Huntsman stuffed with Olney sausage meat won a Silver and the pork madras sausages and stuffed cheese burger both won Gold.

I bought and sampled their pork madras sausages I can confirm, they are definitely gold standard!
